Master Bathroom

Working with the master bathroom's existing tile and cabinetry, Sharon L. Sherman, owner of Thyme & Place Design, designed an elegant master bathroom retreat inspired by her favorite beach destinations. "The colors of the ocean and sparkle of sunlight and sea glass seen in the Hamptons, Spring Lake and Hilton Head Island guided my design," explains the designer.

"For me, water and nature are constant sources of inspiration," says Sherman, whose "sand and sea" color palette is reflected in the rich blue of the console, the subtle grasscloth texture of the wallpaper, the shimmer of Samuel & Sons' mercury glass beads on the valances, and the warm brushed brass details on the Persian lamb-upholstered bench and chandelier. "Art is all around," she says. "The collection of silkscreen prints, called 'People Watching,' reflect what we all do at the beach. Watching kids splashing in the waves, couples strolling along the water's edge. Being in this space transports you away from your daily routine to a special place."

Master Bedroom

The master bedroom offered interior designer Michael Mariotti the opportunity to implement fresh design elements. "The soothing and classic blue palette combined with a blend of warm metals and a unique selection of contemporary abstract lighting and furniture transform the space into a fashionable haven, envisioned for a trendy young couple," he says. "I wanted this room to feel tranquil and sophisticated, yet youthful and alive."

Ideal for a bedroom with a deep tray ceiling, the modern canopy bed features an upholstered headboard in iridescent shagreen in warmer shades of blue. "The stacked horizontal upholstered bed panels draw the eye up, emphasizing the importance of height in the space," says Mariotti.

Striped drapery panels with alternating bands of inky navy blue, warm silver and white pair perfectly, "creating a substantial elegant window dressing without being overpowering," says the designer. Matching chests flank the bed, visually expanding the width of the sleeping area.

Though the room exudes sophistication, it never feels stuffy, thanks to playful features like an animal hide area rug with pops of metallic silver and American Brass and Crystal's freeform Magro Collection pendant, custom-finished in brushed brass.
